

ANOTHER COUNTRYSIDE?

Policy Options for Land and Agrarian Reform in South Africa

Edited by Ruth Hall

ANOTHER COUNTRYSIDE?

POLICY OPTIONS FOR LAND AND AGRARIAN REFORM IN SOUTH AFRICA

Published by the Institute for Poverty, Land and Agrarian Studies, School of Government, University of the Western Cape, Private Bag X17, Bellville 7535, Cape Town, South Africa.

Tel: +27 21 959 3733. Fax: +27 21 959 3732. E-mail: plaas@uwc.ac.za

Website: www.plaas.org.za

ISBN 978-0-620-43744-8

April 2009

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced or transmitted, in any form or by any means, without prior permission from the publisher or the authors.

Copy editor: Laurie Rose-Innes

Cover photograph: ©Garth Stead/iAfrika Photos

Photographs: page x ©Ken Woods/iAfrika Photos; page 22 ©Eric Miller/iAfrika Photos; page 62 ©Edward Ruiz/iAfrika Photos; page 92 Barbara Tapela; page 120 ©Branko DE LANG/iAfrika Photos; page 132 Poul Wisborg; page 164 ©Eric Miller/iAfrika Photos; page 192 ©Jaco le Roux/iAfrika Photos; page 206 ©Alain Proust/iAfrika Photos; page 232 ©Desmond Stewart/iAfrika Photos; page 244 Ruth Hall.

Cartographer: John Hall

Layout: Designs4development, info@d4d.co.za

Printing: RSA Litho

CONTENTS

List of tables and figures	iv
List of contributors	vi
Acknowledgements	vii
Acronyms and abbreviations	viii
1. Introduction Ruth Hall and Lionel Cliffe	1
PART 1: FOUNDATIONAL QUESTIONS ABOUT LAND POLICY
2. Land reform for what? Land use, production and livelihoods Ruth Hall	23
3. Land reform how and for whom? Land demand, targeting and acquisition Ruth Hall	63
4. With what land rights? Tenure arrangements and support Edward Lahiff	93
PART 2: ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL CONSIDERATIONS
5. Dynamics in the commercial farming sector Ruth Hall	121
6. Agricultural employment scenarios Michael Aliber, Mopathi Baiphethi and Peter Jacobs	133
7. Piloting alternatives in the Breede River Winelands Mercia Andrews, Phillan Zamchiya and Ruth Hall	165
8. The private sector and land reform Karin Kleinbooi	193
9. What are the political parameters? Mazibuko Jara and Ruth Hall	207
PART 3: ALTERNATIVE POLICY OPTIONS
10. New institutional mechanisms? Lionel Cliffe	233
11. Conclusions and recommendations Ruth Hall	245

List of tables and figures

Table 2.1:	Patterns of ownership, management and production in land reform	34
Table 3.1:	Average price per hectare by province, inflation adjusted, 1994 and 2003	79
Table 3.2:	Proactive needs-based versus WBWS models of land reform	85
Table 4.1:	Total number of people displaced and evicted from farms, 1984–2004	105
Table 5.1:	Employment and debt by income category	126
Table 5.2:	Budget allocations to selected programmes of the NDA, 2007/08–2009/10	128
Table 6.1:	Approximate employment and earnings shares in former white rural South Africa, 2002	135
Table 6.2:	Selected figures on commercial farms, 1971–2002	136
Table 6.3:	Summary of current forms of employment in agriculture	141
Table 6.4:	Overview of possible agricultural scenarios	142
Table 6.5:	Base scenario estimates for 2020 in relation to 2005	145
Table 6.6:	Indicative results for Scenario 2	145
Table 6.7:	Indicative results for Scenario 3	147
Table 6.8:	Indicative results for Scenario 4	148
Table 6.9:	Indicative results for Scenario 5	148
Table 6.10:	Indicative results for Scenario 6	151
Table 6.11:	Indicative results for Scenario B	151
Table 6.12:	Indicative results for scenario C	153
Table 6.13:	Indicative results for scenario D	154
Table 6.14:	Defining the consolidated scenarios	155
Table 7.1:	Breede River Winelands household survey: sample structure	169
Table 7.2:	Sample structure by sex and age	171
Table 7.3:	Profile of the sample by town and home language	171
Table 7.4:	Type of house by town	171
Table 7.5:	Sources of household income	172
Table 7.6:	Frequency and distribution of livestock ownership by type	174
Table 7.7:	Demand for land by town	177
Table 7.8:	Demand for land among those growing food	179
Table 7.9:	Four models of production and landholding	186
Table 8.1:	Types of agricultural operation to benefit from BEE financing	200
Figure 3.1:	Procedures for implementation in LRAD	64
Figure 3.2:	Consensus to coercion in land acquisition: a continuum of options	75
Figure 3.3:	Pre-acquisition, acquisition and post-acquisition phases	86
Figure 5.1:	Distribution of income by farming units, 2002	124
Figure 5.2:	Distribution of farming debt by income, 2002	126

Figure 6.1: Farm worker jobs on commercial farms, 1950–2002	135
Figure 6.2: Number of black agricultural practitioners, by ‘main reason’, 2000–2006	137
Figure 6.3: Black participants in agriculture, by gender, 2000–2006	138
Figure 6.4: Participation of black women and men in agriculture, by ‘main reason’, 2006	139
Figure 6.5: Cumulative number of land reform beneficiaries, 1996–2005	139
Figure 6.6: Overview of results of consolidated scenarios	155
Figure 7.1: Months during which there is not enough to eat by town	173
Figure 7.2: Households involved in food production, by town	174
Figure 7.3: Amount of land needed, among respondents indicating a need for land	175
Figure 7.4: Purposes for which land is needed	177
Figure 7.5: Demand for land, by town and by sex of respondent	178
Figure 7.6: Demand for land by age of respondent	178
Figure 7.7: Need for land expressed to state institutions	180
Map of Breede River Wineland local municipality	167

List of contributors

Michael Aliber is a senior researcher at PLAAS. He previously held posts at the Human Sciences Research Council, the Department of Land Affairs, and the Land and Agriculture Policy Centre. He holds a PhD in Agricultural Economics from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Mercia Andrews is national director of the Trust for Community Outreach and Education (TCOE) and previously worked as a trade unionist and for the South African Council on Higher Education.

Mompati Baiphethi is a research intern at the Human Sciences Research Council in the Centre for Poverty, Employment and Growth. He is registered for his PhD with the University of the Free State, Department of Agricultural Economics.

Lionel Cliffe is emeritus professor at the University of Leeds and a specialist in land reform and rural politics in sub-Saharan Africa, particularly southern Africa and the Horn of Africa. He was also a founding member of the editorial board of (and a regular contributor to) the Review of African Political Economy.

Ruth Hall is a senior researcher at PLAAS. She holds an MPhil in development studies from the University of Oxford.

Peter Jacobs is a senior lecturer and head of the Economics Department at the University of the Western Cape and was previously a researcher at PLAAS. He holds a PhD in Agricultural Economics from Fordham University, USA.

Mazibuko Jara is a freelance researcher focusing on co-operatives, land reform and rural development. He is currently completing his MPhil by dissertation in Land and Agrarian Studies, on the politics of agricultural policy in South Africa.

Karin Kleinboo is a researcher at PLAAS and previously worked at the Centre for Rural Legal Studies in Stellenbosch. She is currently completing her MPhil in Land and Agrarian Studies, with a mini-thesis on women's access to land and tenure rights in Namaqualand.

Edward Lahiff is a lecturer at the University of Cork, Ireland. He was previously a senior researcher at PLAAS from 2001 to 2006, and before that worked with Nkuzi Development Association in Limpopo. He holds a PhD in Sociology from the University of London.

Phyllan Zamchiya is a researcher at PLAAS and holds an MPhil in Land and Agrarian Studies from the University of the Western Cape, with a mini-thesis on changing social relations on commercial farms.

Acknowledgements

PLAAS would like to thank all the rural and landless people who participated in this project. We also thank the organisations working with them, and in particular the Mawubuye Land Rights Forum, the Trust for Community Outreach and Education (TCOE), the Association for Rural Advancement (AFRA), the Association for Community and Rural Advancement (AnCRA), the Free State Rural Development Association (FRUDASSO), and the Southern Cape Land Committee (SCLC). Partnership and collaboration with these organisations was an important feature of this initiative – to outline policy alternatives, based on experiences of obstacles and innovation ‘on the ground’.

We would like to extend our thanks to the InterChurch Organisation for Development Co-operation (ICCO) for generous financial support that made this project, conference and book possible. In particular, we thank Ate Kooistra for his support and continued commitment to land rights and agrarian reform in South and southern Africa.

We would also like to thank Lionel Cliffe, who was an advisor on this project, for his immensely generous and knowledgeable contributions over an extended period. His decades of experience with land reform in Africa and beyond greatly enriched this project.

This book is also the product of expert editing by Laurie Rose-Innes and design by Rosie Campbell and her team at Designs4development.

Acronyms and abbreviations

ABP	area-based plan/planning
AFRA	Association for Rural Advancement
AgriBEE	agricultural black economic empowerment
ASGISA	Accelerated and Shared Growth Initiative for South Africa
BEE	black economic empowerment
CDE	Centre for Development and Enterprise
CLRA	Communal Land Rights Act
COMBUD	computerised budget
COSATU	Congress of South African Trade Unions
CPA	communal property association
CPI	communal property institution
CRLR	Commission on Restitution of Land Rights
DBSA	Development Bank of Southern Africa
DLA	Department of Land Affairs
DoA	Department of Agriculture
DTI	Department of Trade and Industry
ESTA	Extension of Security of Tenure Act
FAWU	Food and Allied Workers' Union
GDP	gross domestic product
GEAR	Growth, Employment and Redistribution
IDP	integrated development plan
LARP	Land and Agrarian Reform Project
LED	local economic development
LFS	Labour Force Survey
LRAD	Land Redistribution for Agricultural Development
LTA	Land Reform (Labour Tenants) Act
MALA	Ministry of Agriculture and Land Affairs

MLAR	market-led agrarian reform
NAFU	National African Farmers' Union
NAMC	National Agricultural Marketing Council
NEDLAC	National Economic Development and Labour Council
NWGA	National Wool Growers' Association
PAR	participatory action research
PGAC	Provincial Grants Approval Committee
PLAS	Proactive Land Acquisition Strategy
QOL	Quality of Life (surveys)
SADC	Southern African Development Community
SADT	South African Development Trust
SASA	South African Sugar Association
SGDT	Small Grower Development Trust
SIS	settlement and implementation support
SPP	Surplus People Project
TCOE	Trust for Community Outreach and Education
WBWS	'willing buyer, willing seller'